DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609.04(a) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 3, 5, 11, 14, 16, 20, 26-27, and 29-30 are objected to because of the following informalities:

- a. In the first line of claim 3, please remove the comma after the word "vector."
- b. In the first line of claim 5, please replace the word "utilizes" with --utilizing--.
- c. In the first line of claim 11, please replace the word "yields" with --yielding--.
- d. In the first line of claim 14, please remove the comma after the word "vector."
- e. In the first line of claim 16, please replace the word "utilizes" with --utilizing--.
- f. In the second line of claim 20, please replace the word "yields" with --yielding--.
- g. In the second line of claim 26, please replace the word "employs" with --employing--.
- h. In the second line of claim 26, please insert the word --price-- after the word "one."
- i. In the fourth line of claim 27, please replace the phrase "agent related" with --agent-related--.
- j. In the first line of claim 29, please insert the word --item-- after the word "one."

Art Unit: 3628

k. In the first line of claim 30, please replace the word “employing” with the word --containing--.

l. In the first line of claim 30, please insert the word --item-- after the word “one.”

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 29-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Claims 29-30 are written in “single means claim” format since they recite only one element to do all the functions recited. The claims are not written in “means-plus-function” language, however, in Fiers v. Revel, (CAFC) 25 USPQ2d 1601, 1606 (1/19/1993), the CAFC affirmed a rejection under 35 USC 112 of a claim reciting a single element that did not literally use “means-plus-function” language. Claims 29-30 are drawn to any of the listed devices, regardless of construct, that perform the function recited. This parallels the fact situation in Fiers wherein “a DNA” and a result was recited. The CAFC stated in Fiers at 1606 “Claiming all DNA’s that achieve a result without defining what means will do so is not in compliance with the description requirement; it is an attempt to preempt the future before it has arrived”. See also Ex parte Maizel, (BdPatApp&Int) 27 USPQ2d 1662, 1665 and Ex parte Kung, (BdPatApp&Int) 17 USPQ2d 1545, 1547 (1/30/1989) where the claims at issue were rejected for being analogous to single means claims even though “means” was not literally used. Thus, claims 29-30 yield “devices” that achieve a result without defining what will do so.

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claim 28 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As per Claim 28, it is not clear what exactly “computer executable components” are, and thus the claim is indefinite. Examiner recommends replacing the phrase “computer executable components of the system” with “computer-executable instructions for the system” to help overcome this rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

7. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

8. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Regarding claim 1, from which claims 2-11 depend, applicants’ specification, on p. 5, lines 20-24, states that a “component” may be only a computer program. Therefore, claim 1 is directed to a computer program, without the computer-readable medium needed to realize the computer program’s functionality. Therefore, the claim is directed to nonstatutory functional descriptive material. See MPEP 2106.01(I).

Art Unit: 3628

9. Claims 12-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed inventions are directed to non-statutory subject matter. In order to be patentable, an invention involving a mathematical algorithm must produce a useful, concrete, and tangible result. State Street Bank & Trust Co. v. Signature Financial Group Inc., 47 USPQ2d 1596, 1600-1601 (Fed. Cir. 1998).

The inventions of these claims do not produce tangible results, for example, some sort of perceivable communication that transmits their calculated results to a user. This could be a step producing a chart, printout, or computer monitor display; however, there are no such outputs in these claims. Therefore, these claims do not produce tangible results and are not patentable.

10. Claim 27 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. A claimed data packet is neither a process, machine, composition of matter, nor manufacture. Therefore, claim 27 does not fall within any of the categories of patentable subject matter under 35 U.S.C. 101 and is not patentable.

Allowable Subject Matter

11. Claims 23-25 are allowed.

12. Claim 28 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.
